CONTENTS

Geez, Pa. They sure's hell don't put the men together that way in Arkansas, but I bet he don't know the difference 'tween a heifer 'n' a steer!

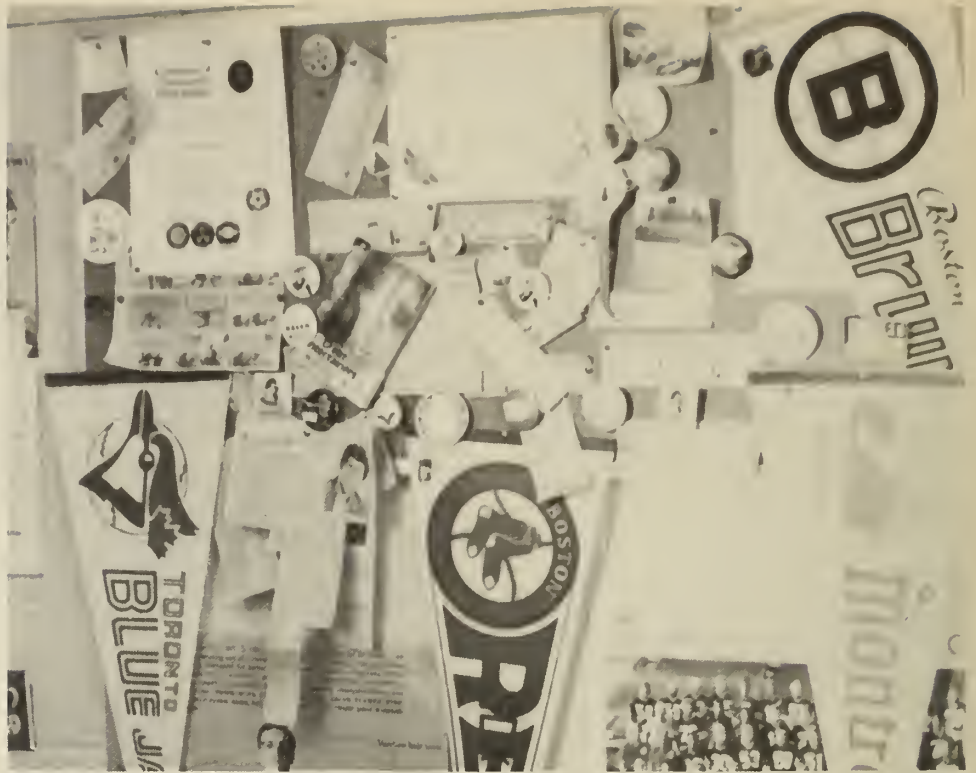

The purpose, that is to say the subject of this paper, is the topic of . . .

Rob Blackwood is back. Incredible or what?
Probably 'or what.'

Lining up for linen: "Hey, who do you have to bribe to get satin sheets around here?"

4:06 a.m. EET (Essay Emergency Time).

Oh, Hi! Come on in. I was just working on some of my etchings.

ORIENTATION '80

... A Splashing.

Success

Orientation sets the tempo for an entire year. Participation is the watch word in a week with something for everyone.

We broke an arm or a leg playing earthball, showed the guys a thing or two about volleyball, learned how to hate a rival floor, rode a bicycle around Sussex Drive, stopping just long enough to hurl some abuse at house number 24, helped a poor damsel learn the basics of baseball, rocked and waved and tried to pick up hunks and chicks we never dreamed existed.

We crawled the pubs, almost literally, trying all the while to look 19. We partied till we dropped and fought back with another round. We reeled with terms like I.T.B., can-mate, Commons, deferred payment, tutorial, etc.

We revelled, gorging ourselves on food that for two days at least, we thought was good. We wore our tightest, bounciest, sheerest, most eye-catching clothing and wrote our "steadys" every night to tell them how rotten a time we were having.

We frisbee-ed, registered, foose balled, banked, canoed, changed courses, picnicked, hustled, visited aunts, uncles and cousins and finished off the day with a drink or two . . . or five.

Yes, it was just our way of resting up before we buckled down and became the scholars that our grandmothers always imagined.

RUSSELL/GRENVILLE

Only 1st Russell can boast about having a dog on the floor for the entire year with the consent of housing. King may be house trained, but it appears some other floor members are not so well behaved. During a pub crawl, one member just couldn't wait until he got home and started to tinkle in the coin return section of a Globe and Mail newspaper box (until he remembered his brother was the paper's Washington correspondent).

Below: Just whose wire is Jeff Holden pulling? Judging from the smiles it's either Al Giller or Bruce Eckroyd. Above: Remember that night - morning when the sprinkler arranged a water raid? It was cold but why the snow shovel? Right: What do you think this is . . . your birthday? Facing Page: Anything you've heard about students climbing the walls here just isn't true.

1st RUSSELL

1st Gren has the reputation for having the most looked-in windows in res. Maybe that's how they've become so popular with the male floors?! They held a tuck-in with 11th Glen and the Dating Game with 2nd Russell. They even admit to selling their services and their . . . to 4th Russell in a Slave Auction. Not half bad for half a floor, but what a half!

2nd RUSSELL

A combination of scholars, athletes and drunken rowdies fighting the lapses into apathy - it's the Reindeer. The floor is known for the SR 2 revolutionary terrorists who took prominent res. figures hostage for several terrifying hours in November. If there's a favourite floor, it must be 5th Russell - they're quiet, don't beat the Reindeer in sports, and don't steal all their doe. (Copyright Nab Inc.).

Remember "Soft Core Night" when numerous girls clad in trenchcoats and sunglasses snuck into the back row seats. Remember when 3rd Russell was raided - BRIEF-ly. Remember the girls who combined with 2nd Russell to collect over 3,000 cans of food. But try to forget Margot Taylor's tremendous leadership in sports (high scorer on the basketball team with one 2 point game) which eventually led to the Res Intermural Championships. Look out 3rd Russell there's a new jock floor.

2nd GRENVILLE

3rd Russell is to Dick Brown what Delta House is to Dean Wormer. "It's the only floor where no one goes to bed until 3:00 a.m." Who are you kidding? - You keep everyone up with you. Seriously though, 3rd has an enviable record in intramural sports - almost always a contender in playoff action. This year they entered several teams in each sport and captured the hockey and waterpolo championships.

With Love, 3rd Grenvill

It's a thundering lightning Tuesday night in residence and across the gloomy quad floats the beckoning strain of "The Time Warp." Then suddenly, on 3rd, 32 doors open simultaneously. Fifty-two pelves thrust and gyrate into the hall jumping left and stepping right. It's not what you think - it's just another study break. Nobody can do it like 3rd Grenvill can!

3rd GRENVILLE

Above: Hear no evil, see no evil but speak in dollars and it makes sense. 4th's venture in capitalism on 1st Gren, a slave auction. Right: Fran hears the P.A. system: "Would the owner of a pink Cadillac, license number . . ." Below: Clearing the res commons lounge faster than any fire alarm ever could, Trevor McGoodchild.

Res.' most international floor has Turks, Iranians, Swedes, Finns, Iraqis, Germans, Japanese, Frenchmen and Albertans all living and failing together on the same floor. The tension mounted during the year, between pro-Iranian and pro-Iraqi floor forces, but what have been described as "numerous drunken orgies" with female floors were held to ease the fighting. "Fourth benefited society by buying beer in mass quantities, thus reducing unemployment."

4th RUSSELL

Above: Jose, Mona, Debbie and Cindy head for the Oscars. Right: Take all your troubles to the Ombudsman - er, woman. Below: Ryan Mullins focuses in one of the nicest bow ties he's ever seen!

1st Row: Mona Wykes (Res. All of the 4th Gren girls party extensively with the exception of a few who party continuously. "Never say last call." They even attended a 3rd Russell party and lived to tell the tail! It was a floor so corrupt by Christmas that in order to keep in their families upon returning home, they had to impose a five cent fine for every @£*#!%* swear word uttered.

Gee Gees Bite the Dust...

PANDA 1980

We Don't Remember a Thing
... But We Won't Forget
PANDA 1980

Diluted to its most basic level, Panda is just a football game. Each fall, as surely as the maples turn red, the Carleton Ravens face off against the arch-rival Ottawa U. Gee-Gees in what is billed as an all-out battle for supremacy. The victor's spoils in this symbolic contest is an aging, slightly dusty, stuffed Teddy bear. But Panda 1980, like years past, was much more than just a football game.

Above all, Panda is a perfect excuse for a good time. Exams, essays and worries seem remote and foggy. It's a time of high hopes and high energy; of one last bash before buckling down to books and boredom. The week between Thanksgiving and the Saturday game was filled with enough diversions to suit all tastes. There were backgammon and caps tournaments, chugging contests, movie nights and rock pubs, and a string of parties that never seemed to end: bunny parties, pajama parties, early morning cocktail parties and "hummer" parties awash with rum-spiked ice cream.

But, as the October 18 game proved, Panda's heart is still football. Despite predictions of a lop-sided massacre at the hands of the powerhouse Gee-Gees, Carleton fans kept up the high spirit of the pre-game activities during the flagwaving residence parade to Landsdowne Park. More than 5,000 Carleton fans watched with growing disbelief as the underdog Ravens trounced the overblown Gee-Gees 30 to 21. The legend of Panda has grown even stronger, as Ottawa bit the dust and Pedro the Panda came home to Carleton.

With our busy schedules, we seldom stop to take a look at the beauty of Carleton's campus, like Paterson Hall on a crisp winter morning, a rainbow descending to the Sports and Recreation Centre or the Arts Tower, dwarfed by a forest on the Experimental Farm. Photographer Tim Morawetz captures the panoramic view of the canal and Dow's Lake from the Arts Tower and the fiery red leaves near the Loeb Building.

Music sets the tempo for the year in res. and what a tune we've had! Beginning with Metagenesis in the Quad and B.B. Gabor, pubs became the cause of numerous plummeting grade-point averages. But with the Downchild Blues Band and the Crayons we had a good time doing it. Panda weekend brought us Teenage Head and The Blitz, all in 24 hours. Then as Christmas exams approached the entertainment crescendo rose with Harlequin and the Blushing Brides. While Ottawa's entertainment spots watched on with envy, the bands played on.

The Legend of Lowest Glen

We asked 1st and 2nd Glen to come out for their floor picture. As they all arrived the spirit and enthusiasm of these floors could be felt resounding from the rafters. Wave after wave of people rushed to get into the front row for their picture. Hordes of grad students huddled in the corners giggling nervously while primping and combing as the photographer made those final adjustments. We even put on a wide angle lense to accommodate the large group. Here was a floor with spirit.

But just as we were about to take the picture some knuckle-head yells, "HRP deadline is just three days away folks." The room fell silent and then suddenly thousands rushed for the doors. Several students climbed the walls to get out. Others were trampled rounding the corner by the laundry room.

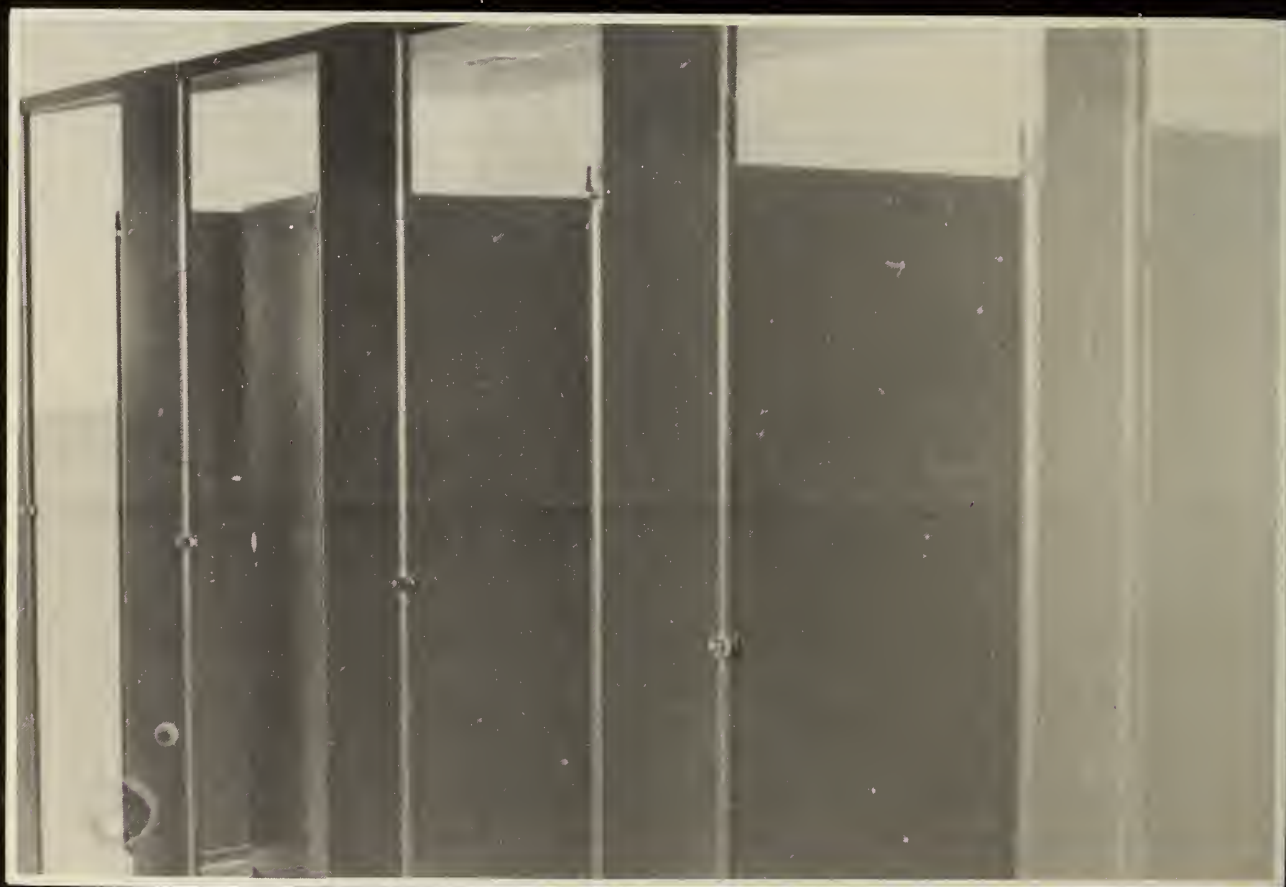

But you see we got the picture. Our photographer wired his flash up to a couple of wheelchair batteries so we had two people right where we wanted them. Click.

N.B. Glen and Tom wish to thank the apathetic or should we just say pathetic floor that allowed them to pose for the centrefold in Resolution Volume 3.

1st/2nd GLENGARRY

Res.' most invisible floor.

ANYBODY HOME?

They really weren't that dead . . .

1st Row: Frank Hart, Tom Murphy, Chris Flood, Neil Knudsen, John Miotla, Tim Wickens, Shawn MacMaster, Kevin Chan, Rob Sluyter, Dave Miller, Sem Nestico, Ron Berndorff. 2nd Row: Peter Langer, Bob Gillelon, Mike Hennessy, Chris Clegg, Paul Morris, Randy Douglas (Res. Absent: Shahram°Amin, Shahrooz Amin, Brian Hurley, Gary Fulford, Mark Lanceman, Marc Levesque, Rich Aird, Al Avis, Darrell Albon, Roch Belair, Rick Larose, Gary Longster, Chng, Jon Young, Jim Whelan, Mike Olsen, Gary Silver, Dave Henry, Bing Lie, Luis Estrada, Rod Watson, Laird Robertson, John Coughlin, Mark Kalisky.

The low profile of this floor can be attributed to the fact that they live on Tokyo time. There are always 12-15 people still up at 5:00 a.m. One late night became rather expensive with a floor raid that cost $30.00 to start and $312.00 to finish. But after that the boys turned to community service - removing unwanted park benches, many signs, flags and numerous milk cartons.

3rd GLENGARRY

Now here's one for mother:
 "Our frosh this year weren't really partiers and were much more interested in studying."
 Buffalo Chips! You mean a few second year ladies did all the partying for the frosh? We know better. What about the baby powder-filled hallways and the squ-ish, squ-ish of the carpet while everyone else studied for exams? And do you mean to suggest your winning football team didn't have any frosh on it. Froshdom is what living is all about!

5th GLENGARRY

Clockwise from Below: Bob Van Andel takes on all challengers. "Dammit where'd you leave the paper?" - When the res. fellow's away the mice will play. Bill Duffin: Need we say more? Vicky Naumenko: "Oh hi! Justh de-frothing the fri . . . dge."

What other floor can say they delivered Centretown News in 10 degree below weather on a Saturday morning, went to two floor dinners, took over the world in Risk, broke the trail to Club 61 on Ladies' Night, won res. soccer, were res. hockey finalists, almost got sued by a bus company after a trip to the Chaud, started a floor painting in October which took seven months to complete, held a stag on a coed floor, had the first floor shirts in res. this year . . . ?

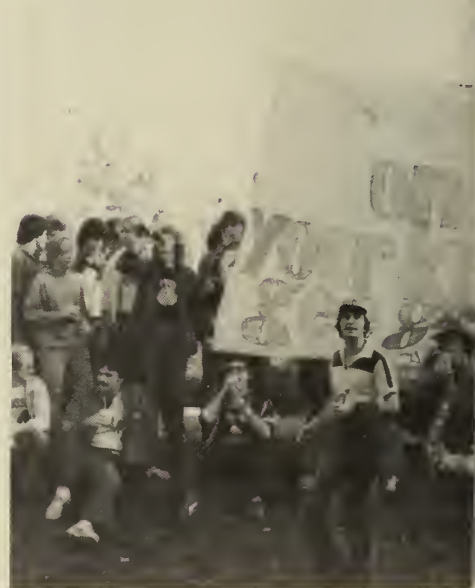

1st Row: Mike Spyridis, Marianne Langlais, Debbie Yeo, Scott Boyd, Denis Landry, Chris Boudreau, Bernie Gareau, Wang Shiuh, Barry Reese (Res. ## 6th GLENGARRY

The proud, the few, the chosen. The self-described "Home of clean living" may be in contradiction with its reputation, but occasionally this year 7th has found glory. Well, "Boots" Bootland asks what sane things his floor has done during this year? They showed raw guts in their pizza rating contest and century club meetings and even had the gumption to send their SWAT team, the Communal Commandoes, upstairs to lift a few choice seats in the ladies' washroom. They proved there is strength in numbers when they captured the res. intramural championship. And the rest is history - history that Boots paid us not to talk about.

Clockwise from Below: Panda and the Raven madmen. The Communal Commandoes who crippled the ladies on 8th in one swift and successful assault. 7th displays unusual etiquette - all this just to get free pizza.

8th GLENGARRY

We're the 9th floor, we're the best of all,
 We're all made of guts and alcohol.
 Our Res. Fellow, he's a little guy,

9th GLENGARRY

Danger: Life on 10th Glen may lead to moral corruption. An illegal aroma hangs in the air while soggy carpets swamp the halls. Visiting Club 61 for "Ladies Night" and their "Better Laid than Never" party showed these girls what real men are like. And to get away from it all, these females would plunge into an afternoon of "Another World."

Clockwise from Above: Sandy Record relieving tension: "Take that Soc 100." 7th and 10th team up while referee Jane Maxwell lets a few personal fouls get by - so what if it's not supposed to be a passing game? Beth MacClusky and Ruth MacLeod: Dear Mom, The strain of studying is wearing us all down further and further . . .

11th GLENGARRY

The many services that are provided to residence students through RRRRA and the Office of Housing and Food attempt to provide all the comforts of home, but . . .

At Saga some days, the food is great - but then there are the other days. It doesn't look too bad in the servery, but it's a different situation when you sit down in the well-lit dining room and realize what is actually on your plate - or can't realize what's actually on your plate.

There are the days when it seems that turkey pot pie and lasagne will never end but the weekend brunches special dinners, brownies and carrot cake make up for it.

If you opt to pass on all these culinary delights there's always the Oasis. Few realize that it too is run by Saga. The Oasis provides an excellent "breakie" for those who make it in time. Most of us use it late at night to watch TV and satisfy the midnight munchies with pizzas and subs.

When both Saga and the Oasis fail you, it's time for the vending machines. They're beaten, bruised, shook, 'sweared at,' broken into, struck, spit on . . . Why, a mugger's victim would be safer. To top it all off every machine is out of "Oh Henry's."

The infirmary located on 2nd Glen makes one feel safe from a Saga overdose. A nurse is there 24 hours a day to provide a bandage for your "boo-boo," salt for your sore throat and something for every little ache and pain. Many of us just stop by to read the really interesting pamphlets even though we feel just great.

Coming to university is often the first opportunity for us to experience the joy of doing our own laundry. When doing the monthly wash, the machines are always full unless of course you live in Glengarry or have the strength to haul your laundry over there without dropping your undies along the way.

The dryer never dries long enough, no matter how many clothes you leave out and of course getting change is discouraging enough to justify putting off the wash for another month.

The coin machines are chronically empty and for almost a month everybody thought that cute girl at the service desk was named "Sorry no change."

The service desk does however take care of our dry cleaning needs. They also hand out copious amounts of telephone bills, bus tickets, meal tickets, etc. Those cost money but they do give out free light bulbs for the all-nighters and toilet paper which is used to protect the cold and fragile trees in the quad.

The real place to spend and waste our money is the arcade. They have candy, pop, sundries and magazines. (Yes, CUSA, even Playboy). The pinball machines get more use than the computer terminals even though they don't have charge accounts for pinball machines yet. The Arcade is the place to get change.

A well-visited spot, the mailroom is the one place we avoid when feeling depressed, lonely and rejected. The lack of action in one's pigeon hole is usually the cause of all this.

The person beside you is always getting something but you and I know damn well he's mailing letters to himself.

This area has often been mistaken for the washroom by visitors - everyone opens their door and yells, "S...t!"

In the Housing Office the folks run res. They think they decide who lives with who and where. They cause some lasting friendships but make a heck of a lot of room changes early in the year when you find out your roommate likes to study.

Above all the favourite place to be in res., with the possible exception of a dark room, is the Bree's Inn.

Where else can you still get an 85 cent beer and talk with Clark Gabel while you unwind.

OUR SR. RESIDENTS

During Scott's first year in under-graduate Engineering, Scott and Heather Mackenzie lived off campus. They felt they were depriving themselves of the opportunity of becoming involved with the whole Carleton community - well you asked for it. Needless to say their life became a lot more exciting when they made the big move to Renfrew House. Heather nurses part-time at the Civic Hospital and the rest of the time Scott and Heather spend here at the Renfrew psychiatric ward, looking after the patients on floors one through four.

Wolf and Sandy Pusztay are the academically-oriented senior residents for Upper Glengarry. Wolf is finishing his Masters in Physiological Psychology - which sounds great but what is it? Meanwhile, Sandy holds down a part-time job and works on her MA in Social Work. In return for their residence duties, they have the best apartment in res., the 11th floor penthouse with an incredible view and a fireplace!

Norm and Kathryn Brown have chosen to devote themselves solely to the Carleton residence community. There are no full time jobs, studies or children for this couple now enjoying their retirement. Heavens knows why anyone would want to spend their retirement with a bunch of lunatics like us but as Norm says, the youthful vitality of res. students has "rejuvenated us and has given us renewed faith in young people." We owe a special vote of thanks to Norma and Kathryn for the time they are able to spend with handicapped res. students.

Jim and Inge MacDonald are the rookie senior residents and have the largest family in res. - largest known family that is - Nicole, Justin, Julianna and the 200 little girls of Grenville House combine to make their days and nights sleepless.

Meanwhile, Jim works toward his Masters in French and eventually a Phd. in Business Administration. Jim and Inge have used their experience in other university residences to their advantage and have made themselves at home in Gorgeous Grenville.

Rob and Karen Allen are back for a second year as the senior residents in Russell House. Since they are both civil servants, we can understand how they find the time for responsibilities in res. They both work for the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs. Perhaps their experience with the savages in Russell House has trained them well for their government jobs - Karen in parliamentary relations and Rob in Treaties and Historical Research. Why do they like res.? Well, it's different (what an understatement), it's entertaining (oh those practical jokes), and above all it's rewarding. Rob is the guy you always see searching the campus for his car - Try the link Rob!

Welcome Back! Yes, someone actually returned to res. Two years ago Bob and Isabel Huggans were the senior residents on Upper Glengarry while Bob worked on his Journalism MA. Bob is now working for the International Development Research Centre. Isabel continues to pursue her career as a writer of short stories (res. is a great place to pick up some wild plot lines), as well as taking care of three-year-old Abby, who has won the heart of many a Lanark girl.

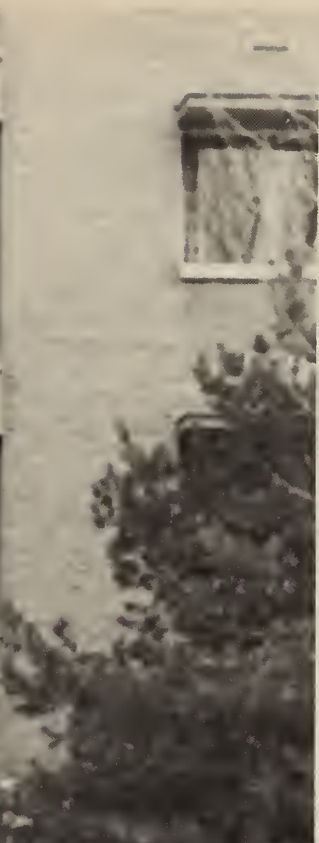

Big name bands rocked the Res. Commons in the New Year. The Powder Blues packed the dance floor for two solid hours. A once obscure band called Toronto was the highlight of the term's entertainment brought to us by RRRR Programmer Joe Barry.

One day in mid January a student praised Joe for the class entertainment in res. "It's not going to stop," he said. And it didn't. Before year's end the Teddyboys, Red Rider, Metagenesis (for a second time) and the Pumps all let the good times roll. Don't stop that music.

RENFREW

If you can't find these guys in their rooms, you might find them visiting their mascot . . . the television. If not doing that, they may be rescuing Pedro the Panda from terrorists who have kidnapped him for his 1st Renfrew home. And if you still can't find them, they may be on a road trip somewhere between here and Hull or New York. Then again, why would you be looking for them? . . . Oh ya, what's his name.

For the first time in several years, most of 2nd Renfrew will receive all their credits this year, according to their res. fellow. School hasn't been the only thing in their life though. We'll remember their beach party first term and their 60's party second term. Any discussion of their sports achievements would have to be brief, but they did have large support for any event involving alcohol.

INTRAMURALS HELP KEEP SANITY

and Busy Hospitals

Although education is the prime reason for our coming to Carleton, many factors contributing to that goal are found outside the lecture hall. One of these is sports, especially the intramural sports program in which we all have an opportunity to compete.

In fact, apart from the odd jogger and bookworm who lifts books for exercise, intramurals are the only physical activity the majority of students get during the school year (aside from muscle builders at the Bree's of course).

These activities (Bree's and intramurals) tend to be the most popular releases from the monotony and/or pressures of readings, papers, exams and any of the other annoying academic sides of university life.

In res. details of Carleton's intramural sports program are relayed to each floor by the individual sports wimps-er, whips, who are volunteered by the floor members at the beginning of the year. They keep the floor informed about the current activities and ensure that we all have the opportunity to participate along with working up enough spirit to earn the occasional victory.

Labatt's Breweries have sponsored the Ontario Intramural Recreation Association for the past two years (a company close to many people's hearts . . . and livers), which may be why participation is often so keen. As a further incentive they are responsible for the awards and certificates presented each year.

Among the fascinating aspects of intramural sport are the rivalries which develop between specific floors: the age-old Lanark-Renfrew battle is a well-known example, as is the more recent 5th Glen-3rd Russell tradition.

The battles to prove individual floor superiority in these areas makes the competition more intense and results in hard fought . . . games.

The guys floors aren't the only ones which can be said to have super-normal involvement in intramurals, because many girls are highly active in the program and a great deal of talent and general good spirit materializes during the ladies matches.

Intramural sports give each residence student and the enthusiastic off-campus teams a chance to vent aggression and let off learned steam, all the while enjoying themselves.

After all, what better excuse do students have to put books aside "just for this really important game" for the fourth time in as many days.

Clockwise from Right: Ninth Glen's Doug Eide, Mike Ladoucer and Jim Armstrong ponder their next move, while Joe Friday and Julie Beckel (yes, she's Wm. Beckel's daughter) make the annual trek to watch the Panda Game. Third Lanark's Mary Pelton and Barb Ross think dancing on the tables is fun at the Powder Blues pub. We saw Sue Findlay kissing Santa Claus, alias John "Gramps" Swanson. Second Grenville's Chris DeGrasse gets caught holding the bucket, while Carol Dougherty hangs out in the Arcade as usual. When in res., do as the Romans do. Third Russell plays Toga basketball.

Res. Week could be called RRRA's dose of preventive medicine for residence students. Coming back from Christmas break is a big enough letdown without the added bonus of term papers and exams clouding the horizon. So, traditionally the second week back in January is filled with enough diversions (and perversions) to keep the post-break-blues at bay.

"Boppin' with the Blues" was this year's theme and the popular Powder Blues Band set the appropriate tone and pace for the week with a sold-out kick-off pub in the Res. Commons. Three movie nights, a presentation by Amityville Horror author George Lutz, the official grand reopening of the Bree's Inn (with the residence duo Edwardson and Holroyd providing the music), a Montreal hockey game and a pub featuring the Teddy Boys rounded out RRRA's slate of entertainment programming.

The heart and soul of Res. Week has always been residence student participation. This year there was a full range of events designed to encourage student involvement. The 1981 tunnel paintings were probably RRRA's largest undertaking. Dozens of students participated in what has become a tradition-steeped highlight of Res. Week. Fourth Renfrew's "A Very Classy Number" took top honours, with Seventh Glen's effort judged second by a panel of RRRA judges.

The armies of Sixth Glengarry took control of the world in Res. Wars, the annual residence Risk tournament, played out on a huge map of the world.

Two teams from Seventh Glengarry battled for top honours in the res. fooseball tournament, held in the Commons.

The final pub of the week, the Rock 'N Wave Party, kept up the spirit of student involvement. Johnny Tuxedo, the famed residence disc jockey, hosted the evening, which featured a special appearance by the Electrix, a res. student band.

Res. Week '81 managed to push the dreaded mid-winter blahs far from sight providing a great warm up for semester two. Just what the doctor ordered . . .

THE MUSIC MAKERS . . .

The 1980-81 academic year was one of unprecedented success and growth for RRRRA and the residence community. We bathed in the programming spotlight as res. became the entertainment centre of both Carleton and Ottawa. Bands such as the Powder Blues, Toronto, B.B. Gabor, Teenage Head and Downchild performed in the Commons and Metagenesis graced the Quad during Orientation.

The residence community re-emphasized its participation in the Ottawa community with the resumption of the St. Pat's Canned Food Drive-Can-Do-It 1980. Over 240 students participated to collect 10,000 cans for local agencies. Residence was also the major contributor to the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic on campus.

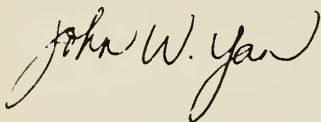

Internally, RRRRA implemented new policies and programs. A hiring policy, the first of its kind, finally gave all students an equal chance to gain employment with RRRRA Inc. The policy to regulate the posting of posters made the residence environment less of a visual eyesore.

A new program, the Associate Residence Member Program (ARM), was passed by RRRRA Council and RUMPB. This program would give first year, off-campus students the chance to participate in residence activities as full-fledged members of floors. Work was done to establish a residence scholarship fund.

In the business aspect of RRRRA, students were greeted with a new-look Bree's Inn and Store and Arcade. In the Bree's a major renovation program changed the drabness of the old Bree's to a fresh, movie decor. The Store and Arcade was rearranged and new products were introduced. As well, eight new pinball and electronic games were added.

In the residence election 1981, students reaffirmed their commitment to RRRRA. The total voter turnout was 85 percent.

Judging by the smiles and cooperation we received, this year has been a success for both RRRRA and the res. student. Thus, on behalf of the 1980-81 Executive, Joe Barry, Jeff Rollo and Kate O'Shaughnessy, I would like to thank you for participating and sharing your year with us.

John W. Yan, RRRRA President 1980-81

THE NEW RRRA MATERIAL

The New Team: Rob Rochon, President; Dave Neely, Financial Controller; Paul Vrbnac, Vice-President; Joe Barry, Programmer.

The academic year 1981-82 is already upon us. Orientation is over and hopefully everyone is adjusted for another year. Best of luck! To most of you, this yearbook's only significance is your floor picture. This can be due largely to a lack of participation in the community. Only by becoming involved in your residence community will you really fulfill your enjoyment of residence. If you become involved, you will broaden your horizons by meeting more people and experiencing new and different things.

Involvement is the key to success of any organization. If you participate, you will help the res. community to continue to grow even more and to be a better place to live. But most of all, you will help yourself grow as a person by experiencing more. Each person in residence is an integral part of the success of this community. These years are to be the best of your life. Be good to yourself. Get involved in your community!

Sincerely,

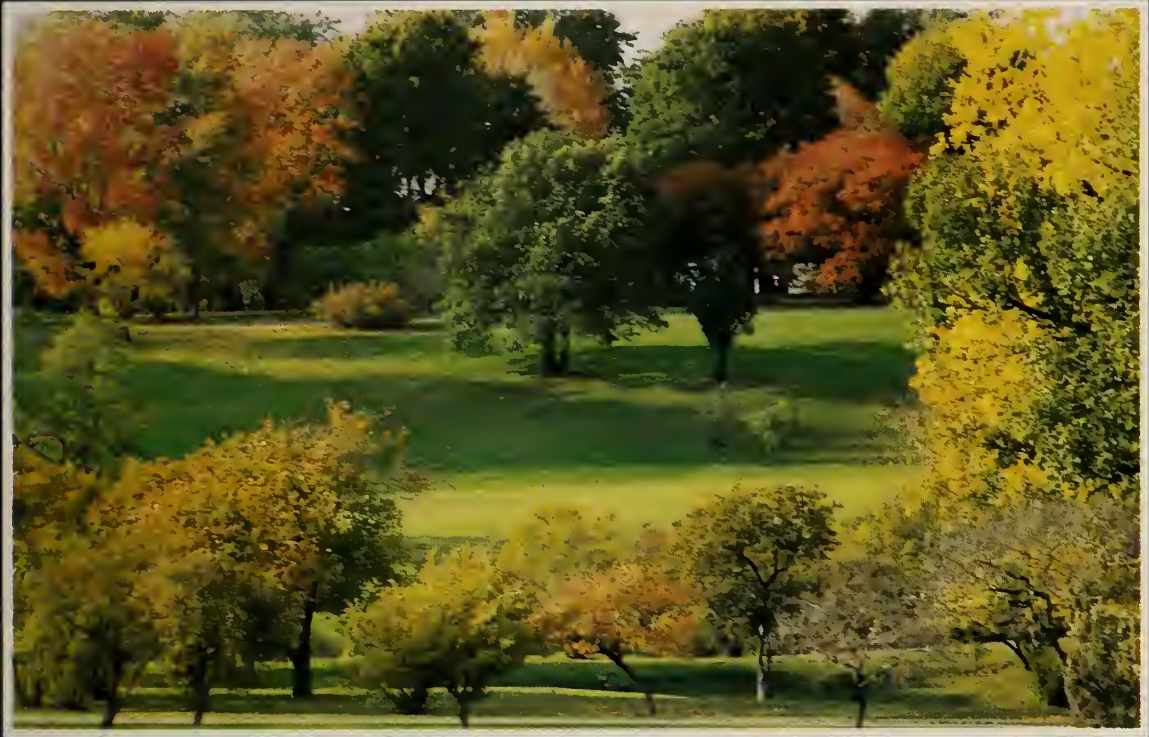

Rob Rochon, RRRA President 1981-82

LANARK

1st Lanark lays claim to being the only totally legal floor in res. No one is under 19. One thing we have noticed about the floor is that no one seems to stay too long. This is the coed half floor that spends half its time moving half the floor in and out. So what's so great about this floor? Well at least they bought their own Christmas tree.

RES. SNOOZE

In 80-81 we made the news although it wasn't always in our favour . . .

NAME THAT PROF.!

The explosive issue of the year apart from the odd bomb threat, had to be the allegations that members of the Journalism faculty were sexually harassing female students.

The alleged incidents were reported to be wide spread and ranged from a pinch on the rear to outright physical assault.

While the alleged university bubbled with the alleged controversy stirred up of course by alleged nationwide media coverage several alleged members of the faculty threatened alleged lawsuits as a result of the alleged defamatory statements. (Ed. note: I think I'm covered)!

The failure to identify specific members of the faculty was said to have amounted to a blanket accusation of all staff members resulting in lawsuits against the few who had the guts to speak out.

In res. the question on every mind was no longer, does she or doesn't she but, how does she get those great marks?

University officials scrambled to protect the reputation of the school and began working toward a university wide policy and complaint procedure in all departments.

Raises $4,500

RES. FELLOWS RUN THE FOX TROT TO RAISE RESEARCH FUNDS

Terry Fox captured the hearts and imaginations of Canadians everywhere when his Marathon of Hope run ended in August 1980.

In res. Randy Bootland and Dan Cowan organized the Fox Trot.

All the res. fellows sought the sponsorship of their floors for the short jog around the university and up to Hog's Back among the canal.

Originally it was expected that $2,500 could be raised and donated to the Canadian Cancer Society for Cancer research, but after the run, with the overwhelming support of residents, $4,500 had been raised.

Congratulations to the organizers and participants in the wet by entirely successful run.

Rare tree is cut down

OTTAWA (CP) — Somebody looking for a free Christmas tree has cut down a rare, priceless Siberian Fir at the Experimental Farm's arboretum and among the suspects are Carleton University students.

After the 11-metre high tree was cut, thieves hacked off its tip and dragged it away, arboretum officials say.

Officials say that on Dec. 8 they followed a trail left by tree thieves from the arboretum to the Rideau Canal locks near the university.

Students of Russell House residence admitted this week that "a few of the boys went Christmas-tree hunting" about 10 days ago and suggested the fir had been on the third floor.

The tree, one of only five in Canada, was patiently raised from a seedling planted in 1939 and its loss is a tragedy, says Trevor Cole, a spokesman for the arboretum.

FOOD DRIVE

You've heard the slogan St. Pat's College lives and nowhere is it more true than in res. where 100 students braved the late October cold to collect canned food in the annual St. Pat's Canned Food Drive.

A city-wide blitz collected close to 10,000 cans which were later turned over to the Anglican

Ronnie's in Town

CRAZY RADICALS GREET BONZO

Bored and tired by the Canadian political scene it was easy to turn our attention to the United States in an election year.

The Bonzo jokes were in abundance but ended quickly in November when Bonzo went to the White House and began to lead our neighbor country to the south.

For many students of res. and the university as a whole, the arrival of President Ronald Reagan in our capital was the political high point of the year.

All week flags disappeared as quickly as they could be put in place along the streets. Essays were set aside in favor of the pursuit of flourishing flag collections.

And then there was the big day when lecture attendance dipped to unprecedented lows and thousands of onlookers and protesters flocked to Parliament Hill.

Invariably the next day a call from home sought assurance that you were not a part of the radical throng. "Oh, of course not, Ma. That only happened to university students in the sixties."

The festive atmosphere of the week was an enjoyable break from all the Ronnie reruns we were forced to watch all year.

"He's a mean Jellybean."

GIVES EXCUSE NOT TO STUDY

Social Service Centre, Amity House, Horizon House as well as Carleton's refugee family.

Those who set aside essays and exams for a few hours found the food drive to be a lot of fun and also rewarding.

Third Russell collected 2,686 cans, the best effort by a single floor. Second Russell/Grenville were combined floor winners with a total of 3,367 cans.

St. Pat's lives on.

Well, here's another one. Your name's spelled incorrectly. There isn't even a picture of you.

But really you're not looking at this book. You're looking back.

These pages are for everyone because in them there is a part of us all - a free spirit, a style of life that we have experienced for a year at least. Some of us of course will return for more of res.

Others of us for the good of our moral, mental and physical (our livers mostly) well-being will choose a different way of living as we pursue an academic career.

Allow me for a moment to philosophize somewhat on the virtue of res. life, which over the past year has come under attack as decadent, retrogressive and so on.

Residence, like the world, represents such diverse nationalities, interests, values and religions but unlike the larger society our youth and the times have combined to create one of the most tolerant environs we could possibly live in.

Some would say that this is the downfall of res. but when people coexist in such close proximity, concerning themselves so seldom with 'style of life,' but with the quality and variety of life surely we have one of life's greater virtues.

Of course we often exceed the logical limits but we, in res., have been able to cope with every situation - tragic, frightening, challenging, exhilarating, or discouraging because behind it all there are people . . . people we loved to love and people we loved to hate but accepted as people just the same.

This book is a salute to the ideal "res. people," the people who tolerated, cared, shared, fought, helped, volunteered and worked in our little community and made the year worthwhile. Now if only we could do something about the pizzas in this city!

I must express my sincere thanks to all who have helped in the production of this book but in particular my 'right hand people' Brenda Jackson, Brent Fong and Linda Link.

Of course, any mistakes are my own.

Turn the pages often and let your mind wander back.
